EDITORIAL

touchy lines..

We are happy to present the fourth edition of “touches..”, our in house newsletter.

Our house has not only given us career opportunities but also helped us to become a better human being in every possible way. A complete human being not only needs law and taxation, but commonsense, sense of perfection and dedication. I am happy to say that we are learning each of these. And the “ touches..” of different colours of qualities to make our personality holistic will go on to add long-term value.

With the feeling of companionship that we have here, it does not seem to be a workplace but our “Home”..

“touches...” gave us the opportunity to share our achievement with you all as well as to get back the feeling of nostalgia from our previous associates. Your response had made it a success.

As always stay in touch with “touches..”

Vinod Kothari's article gets published in Young Jains Magazine

Vinod Kothari's article on " Economics of Mahavir" was published in Young Jains Magazine published out of UK. The article, though way off from the usual sphere of his expertise, shows his versatility in other aspects of life. This article basically discusses about the confluence of modern economics with philosophy.

Nidhi Bothra's article gets published in EIRC Newsletter

Nidhi Bothra's article on "Microfinance in India" was published in EIRC Newsletter, January edition. The article discusses about the concept of microfinance and its development in India. It gives an outlook on how it works and the way it can benefit India if it is utilized in a prudent manner. The article also discusses some latest developments in microfinance such as the Andhra Pradesh Ordinance and subsequent developments in the microfinance industry.

Caclubindia publishes Aditi Jhunjunwala's article

Aditi's article on "Central Government grants general exemption u/s 212 & 211" was published on Caclubindia.com. The article discusses the implications of the general exemption granted by the MCA recently to companies for not attaching the accounts of a subsidiary company with those of the parent company. In addition, there are several relaxations from the requirements of sec. 211 as well.

TOUCHES OF THE PAST.....INTERVIEW WITH NEHA BAID

Neha Baid (formerly Singhi) our former colleague is practicing as a Company Secretary from out of Chennai. Here is a brief tet-a-tete with her:

- How was your experience while working in Vinod Kothari & Company?

Neha: My professional journey started from Vinod Kothari & Company, where I have worked for around 20 months (Jan 2007-September 2008). Vinod Sir is a well acclaimed professor, and it is a privilege to have worked with him. In the firm I have had an opportunity to learn the practical aspects of wide range of subjects under the guidance of Vinod Sir & Manoj Sir.

- Any memory that you cherish which relates to our firm?

Neha : I have a lot of good memories and learning experiences in VK & Co which have become a eminent part of my individuality. To mention only one is difficult, but if I have to mention only one that would be -my first lecture at IIFT on Asset Backed Securitisation, inspired by Vinod Sir. It was a lecture on securitisation that I delivered myself. This was my first public speaking assignment, and I still cherish it.

- You are running a firm. What factors or aspects to be kept in mind to be a PCS?

Neha: To be in practice, it is very important to have patience and continuous efforts. And like once Vinod Sir had mentioned, "Chase excellence and success will automatically follow."

- Any suggestions for improvement of our firm?

Neha: In presence of a leader like Vinod Sir, there are no suggestions from me.

- Any advice to the students who are about to become CS?

Neha: Here I may mention, Read to Learn and Learn to Read.
