The basic idea behind this is to highlight the importance of sharing-sharing happiness, sharing knowledge, sharing ideas. This is what we try to do through the newsletter-touches.

In VK & Co., we endeavour to keep all our past associates in the loop and keep them updated with the activities and events occurring here. Touches. has always been a medium of such sharing through which we communicate to you and share with you the significant events happening in and glorious moments for our firm.

Sharing cannot be one-handed activity. We need your valuable feedback too. The miracle is this: the more we share the more we have. So, feel free to communicate your views and ideas to us.

Your association with us has been great till now-stay associated as such....stay in touch!!

Think before you marry: The fluid law of Joint Ventures - Article by Vinod Kothari & Nidhi Ladha published in Chartered Secretary journal

In business, the good old way of doing business together with combined resources or strengths was partnership. Partnerships are quite old fashioned now – except in case of family businesses, partnerships are quickly getting replaced by joint ventures. The idea of a joint venture signifies doing a venture – a business, a transaction, a deal, with combined resources, with the understanding that this coming together of resources is limited to the venture in hand. There is no pre-supposition of continuity.

There are numerous reasons why business world is increasingly going for JVs. It is trite to say that in the age of scalar economies and specialization, it makes good sense for entities to combine their strengths, However, there are certain sectors of business where getting into JVs has almost become commonplace.

In this article Vinod Kothari & Nidhi Ladha discuss the reasons why business world is increasingly going for JVs. What are the different forms of JVs, Key Indicators of existence of JV, Joint venture, partnership and collaboration/ strategic alliances, Cross border JVs and a lot more.
