

Nanavati in Mumbai. The money will be raised partly through debt and internal accruals. The net debt of the proposed merged entity is ₹1,287 crore (till September 2018) and an additional ₹870 crore will be raised.

Radiant also owns Mumbai's Nanavati as well as Delhi's before interest, taxation, depreciation, and amortisation) margins from 13 per cent to 15-16 per cent. This is a great time to look for opportunities for acquiring hospitals at the right price and we are looking at a pipeline. I don't think this opportunity will be there after 200-300 beds, but not smaller than that.

The merged entity will look at setting up offices in international markets such as Nigeria and Sudan and other African countries, so that it can offer patients "direct to fly" services to one of their hospitals.

gested the parties to settle the matter and failing to which, he may pass an order directing the terms and condition for settlement. "You settle it, unless we would direct you to pay certain amount," said the NCLAT adding that it may fix terms of settlement.

The counsel appearing for Bakshi informed that he has already deposited ₹10 crore to the Debt Recovery Tribunal, received from the sale of his personal shares in the CPRL.

However, the Bench said: "Every time a cry is coming from your side that we would give them this amount and that amount, but not a final settlement is coming."
